Transportation

Taxis are the most reliable form of transportation, negotiate the fare though as meters are not used. Tuk-tuks are widely used by tourists and are a good way to get around cities cheaply, just hold on tight! Bus travel is improving in Cambodia and intercity buses are quite well organized. Your hotel will advise the best form of transportation for getting to touristic sites.

Cambodia

Discover the heart of Southeast Asia

A country with a history that is both inspiring and somber, from one of the world's most famous temples to the more infamous and sad recent past, Cambodia is a country with an unbreakable spirit. With wild jungle, tropical beaches, national parks and steamy action packed cities to explore, this magical country displays a proud local culture that one cannot help but admire, visiting Cambodia is a once in a lifetime holiday, give it the time it deserves and explore it well.

Life changing experiences...

Phnom Penh One of Asia's undiscovered treasures, this city, located on the banks of the mighty Mekong river has a long history, once the "Pearl of Asia", Phnom Penh is a fascinating mix of extremes and well worth a visit. Wander through the local markets, or visit the stylish boutiques, try a snack from the street stalls or dine at the latest restaurant, either way this city will captivate and keep you entertained.

Siem Reap One of the most popular destinations on the planet, and gateway to the famous Angkor Wat, Siem Reap is a haven for guesthouses, hotels, food, wine and relaxing spas. A destination full of charm, with old French 'shop-houses', shady tree lined streets and a slow flowing river through its center, well worth a stop.

Angkor Wat The world famous ruins of Angkor, located amid forests and farmland near modern-day Siem Reap, are a Unesco World Heritage Site. The temples in the area number over one thousand and the magnificent Angkor Wat is said to be the world's largest single religious monument. This is one of those "once in a lifetime" visits, take your time and take your camera!

Facts for the traveller...

Weather

From early February temperatures keep rising until the hottest month of April. In May and June the monsoon rains arrive. October is a wet month with rain coming in short, sharp downpours.

Best times to go

Ideal months are December and January, when humidity levels are relatively low, there is little rainfall and a cooling breeze whips across the land, note that this is also peak season when the majority of visitors descend on the country.

China

"A journey of a thousand miles must begin with one single step"

Lao Tzu - 6th Century BC - Philosopher

This vast country with its epic past of ancient civilizations can be dizzying, frustrating, fascinating, slow paced, fast paced, dazzling, confusing, beautiful and amazing, a country of contrasts that will keep you captivated from the moment you arrive. From dramatic landscapes and ancient monuments to a fast growing modernity that will leave you breathless, China has an unmistakable energy that has been and will always be the heart of this incredible country. With its endless sights, sounds, customs and oddities it is one of the world's truly great travel experiences.

Beijing

With a population close to 20 million Beijing is the political, cultural, educational and military center of the country. Home to some of China's most famous landmarks and important treasures from the past, Beijing combines the historic with the modern and manages to make it work. From the famed "Peking Duck" to Tiananmen Square, the Forbidden Palace, fascinating "hutongs" and shopping choices that are almost overwhelming Beijing never fails to fascinate and enthrall those who visit.

Life changing experiences...

Bike around Beijing The bike is an integral part of Chinese culture, plenty of bikes available for rent and a great way to explore out of the way sights. If pedalling is not your passion but a little adventure is you can also take a side-car trip around Beijing, quite an exhilarating ride, cheap and heaps of fun, they'll even take you to the Great Wall! ("Beijing Sideways" comes highly recommended www.beijingsideways.com)

The Great Wall Go "Astride the Dragon's Back", one of China's most iconic sights the wall is simply a must see and can be visited on a day trip from Beijing at a number of sections. For a little more in depth visit try a hiking trip, they range from 1 to 12 days, whichever way you choose to experience The Great Wall you won't be disappointed.

The Forbidden City The world's largest surviving palace complex. Enter through the 'Gate of Heavenly Peace', wander through lush gardens, marvel at the palaces and depart through the 'Gate of Divine Might'. The 500 year old palace covers 720,000m², has 23 gates and over 900 rooms, a phenomenal site steeped in history and simply awe inspiring.

Summer Palace Built in 1750, largely destroyed in 1860 and restored to its original state in 1886 the Summer Palace is a masterpiece of Chinese landscape and design. With natural hills and lakes, pavilions, palaces, temples and bridges this fascinating complex is well worth a visit.

Explore the "hutongs" One of Beijing's most unique features, "hutongs" are old city alleys formed by lines of traditional courtyard residences, with thousands surrounding the Forbidden City these fascinating areas reflect the culture of ordinary 'Beijingers'. Hire a bike and explore or take a rickshaw ride and visit this intriguing side of old Beijing.

Tiananmen Square A trip to Beijing would not be complete without a visit to this famous square. Located in the Beijing city centre, you can visit Tiananmen Tower, the Monument to the Peoples Heroes, the Great Hall of the People, the Mao Zedong Memorial and watch the National Flag Raising Ceremony.

Life changing experiences...

Peking Duck A must try whilst visiting Beijing, this famous dish dating back to imperial times has become one of China's most iconic foods, if cooked to perfection it is simply delicious. Try "Da Dong Roast Duck Restaurant" at Nanxincang, north-east of the Forbidden City, known for their crispy, less fatty ducks, or the well known "Qan de ju" with branches throughout Beijing (Houhai, Wangfujing, Andingmen).

Silk Market If you are a shopaholic then this is the place for you, seven levels and over 1,700 vendors, you're bound to find something you'd like to take home. Plenty of "designer" goods available, the quality varies so do a bit of shopping around before you buy, and remember only pay what you want to spend and ... bargain, bargain, bargain!

Wangfujing One of Beijing's most famous shopping streets, plenty of shops and malls, tea houses and restaurants. The night market starts after 9pm, lots of souvenirs and unusual food choices for those brave enough to sample them!

Facts for the traveller...

Ketchup originated in China as a pickled fish sauce called "ke-tsiap".

Silk was developed in China where it was kept a secret for more than two thousand years.

Shanghai

"Wherever you go, go with all your heart" Confucius

Dynamic, fast moving, cosmopolitan and totally exhilarating Shanghai is China's showpiece and one of the world's fastest growing economies. Although the city is a powerful force in commerce, finance, culture, art, fashion and entertainment, the old Shanghai can still be found in the temples, gardens and markets tucked in amongst the ultra modern architecture. From designer cocktails to street stall dumplings Shanghai presents an amazing array of irresistible contrasts.

Life changing experiences...

The Bund A magnet for most of Shanghai's visitors, and popular with morning exercisers, this famous street with its historic riverfront buildings is a symbol of Shanghai's colonial past. Located on the west bank of the Huangpu River the busy promenade offers amazing views, day and night, of Pudong's modern skyline on the other side of the bank.

The French Concession Take the time to wander through the streets and discover the interesting blend of European and Chinese style architecture so unique to Shanghai, there's even trees that were brought over by the French in the early 1900's. More recently this area has become one of the "hippest" areas in town with art galleries, boutiques, cafés, restaurants and nightclubs, it is the place to see and be seen.

Fuxing Park Located right in the middle of the French Concession, the park is styled after a typical Parisian city park, with wide tree lined walks and flower beds. Take a stroll through, you'll find people practicing tai chi, ballroom dancers and even opera singers, entertaining and restful, well worth a visit, stay a little later and the area offers restaurants and nightlife.

Shanghai Museum With 11 state-of-the-art galleries and three special exhibition halls arranged on four floors, the Shanghai Museum holds over 120,000 historical and artistic treasures. From ancient bronzes to sculptures, ceramics, paintings, calligraphy, jades and much more this fascinating museum is a tribute to China's greatest artistic traditions. Open from 9am to 5pm it's best to get there early to avoid crowds.

Moganshan Road Art District for lovers of modern art "50 Moganshan" is the hottest area in Shanghai and the centre of Chinese modern art. An old warehouse district from the 1930's the area is now a maze of workshops, galleries and studios full of amazing talent and work, many visitors to Moganshan leave with a reasonably-priced piece of art in hand!

Dong Tai Road Market Spread over two blocks the market has many shops and vendors selling antiques, vintage goodies, furniture, Mao memorabilia, lanterns, junk or treasure. Some real, some fake, bargain well and aim for a 90% discount!

Nanjing Dong Lu Shanghai's most famous shopping street with everything from large department stores, silk shops, upscale designer stores, jade shops to famous fast food outlets. Shop throughout the day and stroll through the street in the evening, open air bars, sculptures, eateries and an utterly amazing neon light show.

Facts for the traveller...

Transportation

Beijing

Bus travel, although cheap it can be crowded and time consuming, if not a little confusing as well.

The Beijing subway has been extended over recent years, and is an inexpensive, convenient way to get around. The subway runs from 5am to 11pm daily.

Train travel is extensive throughout China, the main railway stations are Beijing Railway Station and West Station, however, there is a general lack of English and it can be very crowded.

Taxis have meters and start at 10 RMB, the meter does not usually click in for quite a distance and will also issue you with a receipt. Best to have your destination written down, taxi drivers speak little or no English.

Shanghai

The subway is the cheapest, fastest and most comfortable way for visitors to get around Shanghai (except during rush hour!) The trains are very clean and signs are in English.

Taxis are plentiful and available 24 hours a day, meter starts at 10 RMB (prices increase after 11pm). Take your hotel address with you and your destination written down to help you get about.

The public bus system is extensive but can be a little challenging to find your way around without English signs.

Ferry travel is convenient, there is a terminal at the southern end of the Bund on the west shore, and the southern end of Riverside Avenue at Dongchang Lu on the east shore. They run every 12 minutes from 7am to 10pm and tickets are sold at kiosks out front.

Hong Kong

The underground MTR is clean, fast, safe and easy, one of the world's most modern subway systems and is the quickest way to get to most destinations. Trains run every 2-4 minutes from 6am to 1am daily on three lines.

Top tip If you plan to move about a lot in Hong Kong get yourself an "Octopus Card", convenient and good value the card is valid on nearly all public transportation, saves time and money.

Taxis are convenient and not very expensive, fares start at around HK$15. Note there are additional charges when using the harbour tunnels.

The public bus system in Hong Kong is modern and easy to use, destinations are shown on the front of the buses both in English and Chinese and the bus routes cover almost all of Hong Kong. There is self-service ticketing and change is not given.

Ferries are a fast, cheap and excellent way to get around. The famous Star Ferry crosses the harbour between Central and Kowloon, taking just 7 minutes. Ferries operate every 5-10 minutes. Ferries and hovercraft operate between Hong Kong, Kowloon and the New Territories.

“A land where temple elephants exist amicably with the microchip”

One runs out of words when describing the vast and vibrant country that lies between the Himalayas and the endless golden beaches along its coast. From the country's spectacular historical sites, magnificent royal cities and palaces to the breathtaking landscapes and rich diverse cultures, India is a fascinating and exciting mix of traditions, religions, customs and yes, Bollywood! Visiting any part of India is a life changing experience that takes the traveller on a roller coaster ride of the senses.

Life changing experiences...

Mumbai The fastest moving, most affluent and industrialized city in India. It is part of India's beautiful west coast that runs from Gujarat, through Mumbai to Goa, Karnataka and Kerala. Mumbai is home to people of all Indian creeds and cultures, a fascinating city, and for many people, the gateway to India, not to be missed.

Elephanta Island Caves These splendid caves were carved from the rock face and are one of Mumbai's most famous tourist attractions. The best time to visit is during the week, the weekends are usually packed with tourists. Take a boat from "Apollo Bunder" (next to Gateway of India) and enjoy a guided tour around the island, don't forget your camera.

The Kerala Houseboats Explore the fascinating backwaters of Kerala, cruise along the palm fringed waterways in one of these luxurious houseboats, float past paddy fields, coconut groves, fishing nets and local villages, a unique view of yet another jewel of India.

Goa An eternally popular tourist destination, with golden beaches, lush vegetation, palms, amazing history, temples, churches and monuments all wrapped in a unique cultural heritage. A former Portuguese colony, Goa is a mixture of cultures that offers another view of this fascinating country.

Taj Lake Palace A famous luxury hotel with 83 rooms and suites featuring white marble walls, located literally in the middle of Lake Pichola in Udaipur. The hotel transports its guests by boat, a special and unique hotel, voted one of the most romantic in India.

Tiger Spotting These magnificent animals are an endangered species. India has a number of tiger conservation areas and the highest number of 'Royal Bengal Tigers' in the world. Best areas to spot a tiger are Bandhavgarh, Ranthambhore and Kanha National Parks, best times in April and May.

Agra & the Taj Mahal Agra, capital of India under the Mughals, is home to the Taj Mahal. Built entirely of marble by Emperor Shah Jahan out of love for his wife Mumtaz Mahal this wonder of the world is a magnet for visitors, you cannot travel to India without visiting the Taj Mahal!

Pink Palaces of Jaipur Part of the tourist's "golden triangle" of Delhi, Jaipur and Agra, this city is one of India's major attractions. With its distinctive and unusual Pink Palace, Jaipur is home to a number of temples and forts that draw a large number of visitors throughout the year, totally interesting and quite unique.

A true 'picture-postcard' paradise and one of the most romantic places on earth. From its arts and crafts to dramatic dances and colourful ceremonies Bali is a magical island with a lot to offer its visitors, simply heavenly!

Surf & Dive Indonesia covers a vast area, Bunaken in Northern Sulawesi and Wakatobi in Southeast Sulawesi offer some of the world's most popular and famous dive spots. If riding the waves is your passion then Bali is home to some well known surf spots, and pro-surf competitions. Take a trip out to Plerkung beach in Grajagan, East Java, known as "G-Land" where the surf is famous throughout the world.

Jatiluwih If you're a nature lover, or even if you're not, don't miss the Jatiluwih rice terraces, they give a new meaning to the word green and add yet another facet to Indonesia's amazing culture. Located in a rural area near the center of Bali take the time to make the trip, you won't be disappointed.

Tanah Lot A spectacular Hindu Temple built on a piece of rock just off the shore, a popular tourist destination and a must see in Bali. Late afternoons and sunsets are the best times to view it, although it can be crowded. Plenty of souvenirs on offer as well! If you're a golf enthusiast and would like to combine the two, the nearby Nirwana course, designed by Greg Norman, offers some of the best golfing views in Asia.

Ubud The heart of Bali's culture, this growing town is a centre for fine art, dance and music. Steeped in history and culture this is the place to visit for a little peace and quiet while you watch and learn the fascinating traditions that make this area so remarkable. Plenty to see here, excellent resorts and amazing food choices, lasting impressions are a certainty.

Komodo National Park The park covers three major Islands, Komodo, Rinca and Padar, take a guided trip here and you're sure to catch sight of one of the famous Komodo Dragons. These lizard-like creatures can measure up to 3m in length and easily weigh 165kg, cameras at the ready! Diving is also popular here and many claim it to be one of the best dive areas in the world with an amazing array of marine life, well worth a visit above land and below the seas.

● Transportation

- In general public transport in Japan is well organized, clean and very punctual.
- Super express trains ('bullets'), along with regular express trains connect most of the nation's major cities. Subways are also good for getting around the major cities. Bus services are extensive but the lack of English signs can be a problem.
- Taxis are popular but can be very expensive. Note that the driver controls the door and you should not open it yourself, also best to have your destination written in English.

Japan

The Land of the Rising Sun

A unique and fascinating country that just about has it all. If it's culture and ancient history you're after then this is the place to be, if your interests lie in the latest in science and technology then this is the place to be ... if it's the latest fashion trends of the world you're looking for then ... yes, this is the place to be! Japan is a land where history, culture and heritage meets the future and lives side by side. Take the time to discover Japan, you will be more than surprised and delighted by what it has to offer.

Life changing experiences...

Tokyo One of the world's most famous cities with its neon lights and modern skyscrapers, Tokyo is Japan's fast moving capital. Steeped in tradition and culture yet futuristically modern at the same time, Tokyo offers the traveller an interesting look at the past and present, it's everything you would expect and more.

Mount Fuji One of Japan's most iconic images, the 3,700m high Mount Fuji towers above cities and the surrounding lush green landscape. If you're interested in climbing the mountain it's open during July and August, take a guided tour and a good set of leg muscles! Alternatively, try a bullet train three day trip to Mt. Fuji, Hakone National Park and Kyoto, well worth combining these interesting spots and experiencing the famous bullet train at the same time.

Sumo Wrestling If you're in Tokyo during one of the big tournaments held in January, May or September don't miss out, well worth a visit, extreme entertainment and a fascinating look into Japan's national sport. If you miss the competitions try and visit one of the many Sumo stables where the wrestlers live and train, your hotel can advise you where to go.

Tsukiji Fish Market Located in the center of Tokyo this is an experience not to be missed, you'll need an early start though, most of the fish and giant tuna auctions that have become so popular with tourists happen between 5 & 6.30am, stick to the "Visitors Passageway" and you'll be in the safe zone for tourists!

Shibuya A must see in Tokyo, yet another of this country's many iconic spots. Take a walk across the famous Shibuya Station intersection, traffic stops completely when the lights turn red and the mass of pedestrians spilling into the street is phenomenal. Find a spot out of the way, if you can, and do a little people watching before you make your way into the many shops, malls, restaurants and nightclubs that make up this entertaining district.

Miraikan (The Future Science Museum) If you're into the latest science and technology then this is the place for you, located on the man-made island of Odaiba, the museum covers future innovations, earth and its environment, research projects, robotics and interactive exhibits that will entertain you and certainly make you think, a few hours well spent.

Facts for the traveller...

...Truly Asia!

Malaysia is one of those destinations that has just about everything a holiday seeker needs. From the unique and diversified melting pot of cultures and religions to the most stunning beaches, waters, islands and landscapes you'll find anywhere. Add to this mix delicious food, hundreds of exciting festivals, huge bustling cities with towering skyscrapers, 5 star hotels and resorts that dreams are made of, laid back warm, friendly people and you have the perfect holiday destination that is Malaysia ... truly Asia!

Life changing experiences...

Kuala Lumpur "KL" as it is affectionately known will keep you entertained from the moment you arrive, this state of the art, capital city of Malaysia, is a huge bustling metropolis that will enchant and intoxicate you at the same time, a seductive mix of old and new, take the time to explore and enjoy it.

Petronas Towers Really a must on every visitor's list of things to see in KL, at 452 meters high, with 88 storeys the Sky Bridge view from the top of the towers is truly spectacular. Entrance is free but visitors do need a pass and only a limited number are issued each day. Best to get there early as the lines tend to be long.

Batu Caves Located just outside of KL, Batu is a very popular tourist attraction. Made up of three main caves and a number of smaller ones, they are revered as a Hindu shrine. To reach the caves you will have to climb 272 steps and deal with a number of cheeky macaque monkeys...on your way out you might have to deal with a number of taxi drivers as well! Worth the visit though, the caves and painted sculptures are all very special.

Serious Retail Therapy Bukit Bintang is the heart of KL's shopping mall scene, if retail is what you're looking for then this is the place to go. The major malls include; the luxurious "Star Hill", the up-market "Lot 10", the popular "BB Plaza" and the "Sungei Wang", "Low Yat" and "IMBI" for electronics. As with many places in Asia do compare prices and double check electronic goods!

The Boh Tea Plantation Set in the Highlands, just north of Brinchang, this tea plantation is a sprawling scenic domain with a tea factory, a teashop and a visitor's centre. See how tea is made from picking to packing, and enjoy sipping on a cup whilst taking in the spectacular sights of the plantation from the pleasant tearoom.

Chinatown A popular tourist spot, Petaling Street is the center of KL's Chinatown. This rich, bustling area is a bargain hunter's paradise with a distinct Chinese flavor. You'll find everything from Chinese herbs to imitation designer handbags, the night market offers hundreds of stalls and a truly vibrant atmosphere, haggle and bargain as much as you can, don't be shy!

Did you know?

One of the Petronas Twin Towers in Kuala Lumpur was built by Japanese and the other by Koreans.

There are 32,000 windows in the towers, it takes 2 months to wash them all.

Malaysia is home to 14,500 species of flowering plants and trees, more than 200 species of mammals, 600 species of birds, 140 species of snakes and 60 species of lizards.

The Cameron Highlands Four hours from KL this is the largest and most famous hill resort in the country. Named after William Cameron, a British surveyor who 'discovered' and mapped the area in 1885, the Highlands are home to the leading producers of flowers and tea in Malaysia. Well worth visiting not only for its scenery and historical interests but for its weather... cool and pleasant, the average temperature is between 22 and 25°C with a cool 15°C at night. Aim to spend a few days in this popular yet peaceful area, a wonderful place to relax and explore.

Malacca Two hours south of Kuala Lumpur this historical trading port has an interesting past with Portuguese, Dutch and English rule. Visit the famous Gateway, St. Paul's church and the Portuguese Fort de Santiago, all intertwined with local Chinese and Malay culture, yet another unique side to this many faceted country.

Langkawi Malaysia's best known holiday destination is an archipelago of 99 islands on the country's west coast. Long sandy beaches, turquoise waters and coconut palms on the coast and jungle covered hills and scenic paddy fields inland. Plenty to do and see; try diving, snorkelling, the scenic cable car, Seven Wells waterfall, canopy and cave trekking for the adventurous and relax with a little duty free shopping at the end of each day, an idyllic spot for a holiday.

Penang One of Asia's most famous islands with a colonial mystique, beautiful beaches and some of the best Malaysian food you can find. The capital Georgetown is a UNESCO World Cultural Heritage Site and a perfect destination for visitors, busy and colourful the city has a maze of streets and lanes just waiting to be explored. Weaving, woodcarving, fortune-telling, Chinese and Indian temples alongside modern skyscrapers, it's all there to be discovered.

The Sepilok Orangutan Sanctuary

Located in Sandakan on the eastern Malaysian island of Borneo this sanctuary is home to over one hundred of these endangered primates and offers a rare chance to see them up close. The facilities provide medical care for orphaned and confiscated orangutans as well as many other species including sun bears, gibbons, rhinos and the occasional elephant. A fascinating and educational insight into Malaysian wildlife and its challenges.

Jungle Trekking The National Parks and Forest Reserves in Malaysia offer the more adventurous visitors endless opportunities to discover the rainforest's exotic and rare tropical flora and fauna. With a camping and trekking trip you will see "Nature at its most natural" as you cross swaying bridges, swim in crystal clear rock pools and canoe up local rivers. Choose from one of the many parks and reserves throughout the country, definitely the trip of a lifetime.

Facts for the traveller...

South Korea

Where ancient traditions are still alive and well...

A country of endless possibilities and an energy that can leave you breathless. Take the time to explore the beautiful temples and pagodas, the picturesque countryside and mountains, lush green rice fields, fishing villages and an almost unlimited choice of hiking opportunities that will take you off the beaten track. There is so much to see and do here, South Korea is a rich, culture filled country with a love of life that is infectious for those who visit.

Life changing experiences...

Seoul The history behind this busy bustling city offers a glimpse of the past. Visit the Gyeongbok Palace, Korea's former seat of power. Spend a morning or afternoon at Chandeokgung Palace, a huge complex full of courts, halls, bridges, pavilions and secret gardens. Bukchon Village is nearby and worth exploring, the traditional Korean wooden homes, "hanok", are at their best here. Quaint cafés, art galleries and restaurants are sprinkled throughout the district so do take the time to wander through.

Namdaemun Market The oldest and largest traditional market in Korea, with an astounding number of shops, stalls, street vendors and nearby department stores. The selection of things to buy seems endless, think of anything and you will probably find it here. Walk the streets and through the alleys, plenty of food stalls and restaurants along the way where you can try a variety of delicious traditional Korean food.

Itaewon Often referred to as "Little America in Seoul" this area is a popular spot for shopping and entertainment in Seoul. Many restaurants, bars, nightclubs and music venues to choose from along with shops that have anything from footwear to furniture!

Namsan Cable Car Catch the cable car to the top of Namsan, the city's most famous peak and enjoy spectacular views along the way, best to pick a clear day for the journey, watching a sunset from there is worthwhile. Take in the scenery from the restaurant or visit the observatories of the 'N Seoul Tower', with its new digital telescopes.

Cheonggyecheon Stream Hard to imagine hearing the sounds of a bubbling stream in the middle of the city, Cheonggyecheon is just that, restored in 2005, the stream meanders through the heart of the city offering serenity to this bustling metropolis. Take the time to walk through it, the unique bridges, stepping stone crossings and waterfalls are simply delightful.

Bugaksan The peak behind the President's home, Cheongwadae or Blue House offers several hiking trails that take you through the reconstructed 15th century gates along Seoul's ancient fortress walls. Once you've reached the top the views of the city's skyline, from shanty-towns to skyscrapers, make the trek well worthwhile. Avoid the weekend crowds, and note, you will need your passport to get on the trails.

Korean Folk Village An open-air folk museum where you can experience traditional Korean culture, with over 260 traditional buildings on display, including 30,000 household items representing various regions of Korea. See how the peasants, farmers, and civil officials lived during the late Chosun Period, an interesting visit.

Experience the true meaning of Thai hospitality with all the personal touches and comforts that make you feel right at home - only better.

Life changing experiences...

Chiang Mai Located in the northern Thai hills Chiang Mai is one of the country's most historically important areas. With over 300 temples and endless activities it is the jewel in Thailand's crown. Chiang Mai city combines modern and dynamic with rich historical sites, its temple lined backstreets are a delight for visitors and the surrounding mist covered hills, rivers and lakes are both thrilling and breathtaking. Trekking, fishing, mountain-bike riding and exploring villages are just a few of the popular activities. Try an elephant ride through the jungle, or spend a day with them at one of the many parks and farms, Patara Elephant Farm is among the best, a change of clothes might help if swimming and bathing is involved! Delicious food, cultural riches, fabulous handicrafts, adventure and national treasures are all here, don't miss them.

A little adventure A short trip out of Pattaya try a "Flight of the Gibbon" and explore the forest from a whole new perspective that is safe, fun and fascinating. Kilometers of connecting zip lines, platforms and rope bridges built into the forest canopy takes you through the top of the trees, great fun and a truly exhilarating experience.

Best times to go

The best time to visit most of Thailand is between November and February, not so much rain and it is a little cooler.

Shopping hours

Most shops are open most days between 10am and 10pm.

Tipping

Tipping is not expected in Thailand, service taxes are added to the bill, however for exceptional service a small tip can be appropriate and well received by hotel staff, housekeeping, porters and restaurant waiters.

Transportation

The Skytrain, an elevated metro rail in Bangkok, is a good way to get around with 23 stations along 2 lines.

Buses are inexpensive and can be a crowded way to get around Bangkok. The air-conditioned bus costs more, but is generally less crowded.

Thailand's railway is excellent and reaches most major cities in the country. Air conditioning is available on the diesel trains for first class passengers.

Taxis are plentiful but the price must be agreed upon in advance, bargain well as there's plenty of competition. Most taxis are air conditioned and most drivers can speak some English.

The famous tuk-tuk is everywhere, excellent for short trips but not recommended for long distances as it can end up costing more than a regular taxi. Agree upon a price beforehand, if possible.

Ferries are a great way to get around the famous riverside area with its many historical attractions, and to explore the 'klongs' (canals). Express boats, river taxis and tail-boats run up and down the Chao Phraya River throughout the day.

Turkey

Where east meets west...

A vast country with not only a rich and important history at its core but a country that offers some of the most amazing landscapes and natural wonders. It also boasts the only city in the world to be built on two continents! From the bustling Grand Bazaar, historical sites, trendy bars and eateries in Istanbul, breathtaking and unique landscapes in Cappadocia, the famous "Turquoise Coast" in the south-west to Roman tombs, archeological wonders and remnants of the world's most significant empires spread throughout the country. Simply put, Turkey is one of those destinations that should be visited at least once in one's lifetime.

Life changing experiences...

Istanbul Located right on the Bosphorus Strait, where east meets west, Istanbul is a fascinating blend of ancient and modern history in the midst of contemporary chic. The city offers Medieval, Byzantine and Ottoman marvels alongside trendy bars, restaurants, exciting new art galleries and museums. Plenty to keep you busy during the day and even more to entertain you at night!

Shop Istanbul From the Grand Bazaar to designer clothes and accessories, this city is a shopaholic's dream. The Bazaar in Beyazit offers a myriad of things from jewellery to leather goods, carpets and more, take the time to wander the many covered alleyways. Istiklal Street, one of Istanbul's most active areas, hosts hundreds of shops, cafés and restaurants. For high fashion with high price tags visit either Nisantasi, a very popular shopping district in the city or Bagdat Caddesi, the "Rodeo Drive" of Istanbul.

Cappadocia This unique and surreal landscape where erosion has formed caves, clefts, folds and "fairy chimneys" in the soft volcanic rock is a must see. Try a hot air balloon ride over the hills and valleys and float over spectacular scenery. Wander through the underground cities, or stay in an underground hotel, see Byzantine frescoes, ancient churches, whirling dervishes and so much more... this is a real "bucket list" destination.

Bodrum Originally the ancient city of Halicarnassus, one of the seven wonders of the Ancient World, Bodrum is now perhaps more well known as the "Monte Carlo" of the Aegean sea. With a smart marina, plentiful restaurants, bars and nightlife famous throughout the area this city provides a fun and exciting summer holiday.

Cruise with a Gulet Sail the "Turquoise Coast", Turkey's answer to the Riviera, on a traditional "gulet", with room for 8 - 12 people these comfortable boats are equipped with modern amenities and come with a knowledgeable crew. Make it a family trip or get a group of friends together, a great way to relax and explore the coastline at your own pace, plenty to see and do along the way.

Facts for the traveller...

Weather

Turkey is a big country and its climate varies from region to region. Generally summers are very hot, Istanbul can reach temperatures of 40°C, winters can be extremely cold inland and to the east. On the west coast summers are hot and humid and winters are moderately cold. The Marmara, Aegean and Mediterranean coasts have a summer that is typical of other Mediterranean areas, with hot summers and mild to moderate winters.

Shopping hours

9am to 6/7pm. During summer most shops stay open until 9 pm.

Tipping

It is customary to tip in Turkey, in restaurants add 10-15%, hotel porters should get 2-3 Lira per bag. Taxis do not expect tips but rounding up the fare to the nearest number is normal practice.

Transportation

Trams, metro and bus travel is available in Istanbul and other major cities, efficient, cheap and convenient. Inter city bus travel is also easy and relatively cheap in Turkey and possibly the best way to get around the country, clean and very well organised.

Taxis are numerous in all Turkish cities and towns and have black and yellow bands. All taxis have a meter which must be switched on at the start of the journey. For longer journeys, the fare should be agreed beforehand.

Many trains of the Turkish Railways have sleeping cars, couchettes and restaurant cars, some are air-conditioned. Fares are comparatively low, but are more expensive for express trains. Rail coverage of the country is not as comprehensive as bus routes.

Ferries are a popular and excellent way of getting around, inside Istanbul and beyond, plenty to choose from.

Best times to go

April to May and September to October are the best times to visit Turkey to avoid high heat and crowds of the summer season. With the exception of Istanbul, Turkey has little winter tourism, most resorts along the Aegean, Mediterranean and Black Sea are closed between October and April.

Did you know?

Istanbul has been capital of the Roman Empire, the Byzantine Empire, the Latin Empire, and the Ottoman Empire, yet it isn't the capital city of modern Turkey, which is Ankara. Istanbul is however the largest city in Turkey.

Istanbul is the only city in the world built on two continents.

In 1930 the Turkish authorities came up with a simple way of ensuring that the new name of "Istanbul" was recognised and used throughout the world. Any mail that was sent using any other name was simply marked 'return to sender'.

Vietnam

Intoxicating!

Once you're in this special country you'll be swept along on the wave that makes Vietnam an utterly fascinating place. From soaring mountain landscapes and green rice fields in rural Vietnam to the dizzying speed at which life in Ho Chi Minh city moves, to the capital Hanoi with its arts and French Quarter to Hoi An and its timeless ancient streets... the country will keep you surprised, awe inspired, entertained and really well fed! Take a holiday in Vietnam, you won't be disappointed.

Life changing experiences...

Ho Chi Minh City Perhaps more famously known as "Saigon" this amazing, bustling and vibrant city seems to have an endless energy. Ho Chi Minh offers the visitor a chance to mix ancient architecture with new, local markets teeming with life and old wooden shops sit next to designer malls, modern skyscrapers, fabulous restaurants and sleek bars. The city draws you in to its own world of contradictions and holds you there for the duration of your stay, life changing at its best.

Street Food Vietnam's street food is known as some of the best in the world. The choices are endless from the famous Pho (pronounced 'fir'), an aromatic tasty noodle soup to a delicious savoury stuffed baguette known as Bahn mi, it's all there in street stalls just waiting for hungry visitors!

Hoi An This fascinating and charming city is one of Vietnam's highlights and offers an intriguing look at ancient architecture with Vietnamese, Chinese and Japanese influences. Wander the old city by foot or rent a bike, Hoi An will keep you entertained with historic landmarks, exotic food and interesting open air cafés. The city is also famous for its 300 or more local tailors so if it's the latest trends you want, or an old favourite copied, take your time, shop around and make room in your luggage!

Take a Cooking Class If food is your passion then try something a little different by joining a cooking class at the Morning Glory Restaurant in Hoi An. With Vietnamese street food being so famous throughout the world, this restaurant runs a popular class with a trip to the local market for ingredients, well organized, well known and deliciously good fun.

Mekong River Cruise Hop on a morning cruise from Ho Chi Minh City along this famous waterway, fabulous landscapes, floating markets, coconut palms and more, so many sights and sounds to experience. With a little extra planning you can take a week long trip on a luxurious boutique river boat from Ho Chi Minh all the way through to Siem Reap in Cambodia, a truly exciting and once in a life time memorable journey.

The French Quarter Hanoi, Vietnam's capital, is home to the famous French Quarter with its boulevards and elegant French colonial style buildings. Visit the stately Opera House or Hanoi's Museum of History, a unique, interesting mix of 'Vietnamese Palace' and 'French Villa'. Make your way to Trang Tien, the main street of the French Quarter, a bustling shopping area famous for ice cream, bookstores and classic architecture, sit in one of the many cafés and enjoy the scene.

Hanoi Water Puppet Show An ancient tradition that dates back as far as the 11th century, the puppets are made out of wood and the shows are performed in a waist-deep pool. With a traditional Vietnamese orchestra providing the back ground music the puppets act out folk tales and stories passed down over generations, very unique and entertaining, certainly worth a visit.

Did you know?

- Vietnam has one of the lowest unemployment rates in the Third World.
- In Vietnamese schools, gongs are used instead of bells, to call the children in to class.
- The literacy rate in Vietnam is 94%.

Facts for the traveller...

Weather

The climate varies from north to south with three distinct climatic zones. Tropical monsoons occur from October to April in the centre and from May to September in the north and south. It is almost totally dry throughout the rest of the year. It can get exceptionally hot during the year, but generally the north has a cooler time between October and April.

Best times to go

The weather is so diverse there's always pleasant temperatures somewhere in Vietnam, best to check according to your holiday schedule.

Tipping

Tipping is not expected in Vietnam, but it is appreciated, a tip of US$1 can be a significant amount for some. Although restaurants may add a 5% service charge it doesn't necessarily get to the staff. Tip at your discretion only, there is no standard amount. Tip the staff who clean your room, drivers, tour guides and waiters.

Transportation

Buses are the most common form of overland travel although not recommended unless you are only travelling a short distance. Seats can be a little small and might have more than one person on it! Bus travel is best with a quality tour company or the open topped buses that provide tours around the bigger cities.

Train travel is easily the most comfortable form of overland travel and the major line between Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City can get you from one city to the other in 30 hours aboard the Reunification Express. Booking an air-conditioned berth is a must when travelling long distances in Vietnam, and you will need to book way in advance at a ticket office. Do look after your luggage, don't leave it unattended or near an open window.

Taxis are convenient for travelling about within the cities, motorcycle taxis are the fastest way to get about but always negotiate the fare first. Cyclo-pedicabs are also available for inner-city travel, you can pay more for a pedicab than a motorcycle taxi, but the pace is more laid back and some operators offer city tours.
